Facts:

Jameson Scott, professional athlete signs a contract with the Detroit Kings, a professional basketball team in the BOOM League, for five years, earning $5,000,000.00 per year. The contract contains a 'morality clause' wherein the Kings can terminate the agreement if the athlete violates the clause in any manner.

Jameson Scott went to a club with a couple of his high-school friends two months after he signed his contract with the Detroit Kings. Mr. Scott was hanging out with friends at the Club when two unidentified persons began verbally and physically assaulting Mr. Scott and his friends. Reports given to Police indicate two witnesses heard Mr. Scott's friend, Jake, ask Mr. Scott if he wanted him to 'take these guys out?' Jameson Scott responded 'Yes'! Jake then threw both bar glasses at both men and severely injured both.

The County Prosecutor charges Jameson Scott with Assault with Intent to do Bodily Harm.
